A translated copy of the Ph.D. thesis' detailed abstract, either in Hebrew or English, must be presented to our department, if the Thesis is written in any language but the above. The abstract will be forwarded to a specialist on the area of concentration of the Ph.D. research. Specialists maintain the right of asking the translation of the thesis, if the abstract is not enough to reach final conclusions (translation of the methodology chapter, findings, summary and introduction part). An English or Hebrew translation of the bibliographical list should be attached to the abstract

Applicant can enclose to the documents all the published relevant materials, if found appropriate.

All documents presented to our office must be officially translated either in Hebrew or English (if the original documents are not in English).
