IS YOUR HOME TIDY?

Hello, listeners. This is Avi Cohen with our weekly program, Unusual Jobs. With me today is Deena Kelly. Deena works as a personal organizer. She will tell us what a personal organizer does. Hello, Deena.

Hello, Avi. Thank you for inviting me.

Tell us, what is a personal organizer?

Personal organizers help people organize their homes. They help people make their home tidy.

Why do people need help?

Well, today people have lots of old things in their homes. There are many things that they don't need, but they keep them anyway. For example, people keep books, old clothes, and other stuff that they don't use. Many homes are just full of this stuff.

Why do people do this?

Well, people know they cannot sell these things. And they cannot use them. BUT sometimes these things help people remember good times in the past. Teenagers, for example, often keep favorite shirts that are now too small. Some people never get rid of anything.

I know. I also keep lots of old things. Is this a problem?

Well, one problem is that all these things around you make it difficult to concentrate on tasks that you want to do. For example, it may be difficult to do your homework, or it could even be difficult to play a computer game. But the BIGGEST problem is that you can't find things. When you have too many things, it is very hard to find the things you DO need when you look for them.

So how do you help these people?

First, I help people choose the things that are really important to them. The next and HARDEST part of this job is to convince people to get rid of the things they DON'T need.

How can people get rid of these things?

They can give some things to their friends, or maybe an organization will come and collect some of their stuff. Or, they can just throw things away. Then we can begin to tidy their homes and organize them.

So, do you enjoy your job?

Oh yes, very much. I like making people happy. In the end, people are always very happy when their home is organized and tidy.

Thank you Deena, for telling us about your work as a personal organizer. Goodbye.
