Perhaps I'll Be An Artist By Sara Bertisch

The class made napkin holders the other day.
Ben thought his was pretty okay.
That's ugly," was all Jason could say".
"We can fix it," said the teacher. "I'll get more clay".
But Ben liked it fine just that way.

Weird creation," announced his brother".
Interesting statement," remarked his father".
His sister suggested he make another.
How very useful!" declared Ben's mother".

We'll put it right over here," said Mom decisively".
"!The very place for it," agreed Dad. "Undoubtedly"
Not bad," said his brother quietly".
I'll get some napkins," added Sis rather loudly".
Perhaps I'll be an artist," proclaimed Ben proudly".
