

Home at Last

Monday 13th October 2025

Dear Diary,

Do you know how excited I am today?

Today is a very special day. The last twenty *hostages are coming back home to Israel from Gaza after two years. I am watching TV with my parents. I can see President Trump at Ben Gurion Airport. Right now, he is meeting with *President Herzog and *Prime Minister Netanyahu.

Oh, I can hear the sound of helicopters so I am going outside. Mom says the helicopters are taking the hostages to the hospitals where they will meet their families and friends. I'm very happy they are safe now.

My heart feels warm today. All my friends and neighbors are outside with me. We are singing songs together and flying Israeli flags. My dad says the war is finished and that there is peace. I do not want anything else.

Lior
