Table of Specifications for the 6th Grade Exam, 2025

This exam is designed to assess the English proficiency of 6th grade students in Israeli schools. It is aligned with the A1 level (basic user) that is outlined in the English Curriculum \(2020\) and in the English Inspectorate Bulletin 2024-2025.

Exam questions assess a variety of skills. Beginning in 2025, there will be an emphasis on creative thinking and critical thinking skills (for more details, refer to the skills definitions in the National pedagogical policy document – מסמך תפיסת הלמידה המתחדשת).

4 Hot Tips from Us for the Exam:

- 1 Read the exam specifications outlined below and the key documents upon which the questions are based. There are no surprises in the exam! The questions are based on the curriculum and the Inspectorate Bulletin.
- 2 Let the students know that there is no grade for the exam, and it is not part of their report cards. Still, it is important that they do their best in order to help their school to improve in the future.
- 3 Keep in mind that the school does not receive a grade either! The results report highlights strengths and challenges relative to similar schools, and shows each class's performance relative to the average in one graph.
- 4 Most importantly - continue teaching as usual. There is no need to prepare for the test. The best preparation is to calm the students, encourage them, and promote their willingness to participate.

How will the Exam Day Be Conducted?

The exam is scheduled for May 6th, starting at 10:00 AM. It will be managed by an external team of test administrators who will arrive at the school by 9:30. During the exam, each classroom will have a proctor along with a teacher (not an English teacher) from the school who will assist the proctor with identifying students and ensuring the exam integrity and discipline are maintained. The exam will last for 90 minutes, with an additional 30 minutes available for each student if needed.

Accommodation Policy in TNUFA Exams for Students with Special Needs:

RAMA is committed to including all Special Education Needs (SEN) students, both those who are study in mainstream classrooms and in SEN classrooms, in the assessment process, while ensuring validity, reliability, and fairness. With these principles in mind, RAMA has developed a policy regarding exam accommodations. The policy aims to balance between the type of accommodation and its impact on assessment, the examined essence and the core content, and exam operations. The scope of accommodations provided to students will be aligned with their individual needs; those that do not alter the examined essence or the core content will be given as needed to all students, following prior coordination. However, accommodations that affect the examined essence will only be provided to SEN students studying in mainstream classrooms or those studying in special education classrooms.

Reporting on Exam Findings:

RAMA has rebuilt and redesigned the reporting so that no scores are provided at the school, class, or student level, making it much more accessible. The report is short and purposeful, focusing on actionable insights by highlighting each school's strengths and weaknesses compared to similar schools and to previous years.

The report does not include any grades. Instead, it reflects the school's overall outputs and results, both in terms of achievements and school climate. This year, the report will show the distribution of students across performance levels in English, which will allow learning about the mastery level of students at the specific class and the school levels, regarding the contents and the skills in the examined subject.

The report on the English exam for 6th grade will focus on two main content areas:
Vocabulary and Written Reception, along with students' attitudes toward the subject.
